Win A Log Cabin From Outdoors Magazine and Fork Creek Cabins

Outdoors Magazine knows firsthand how much our readers enjoy their time at hunting camps and fishing retreats. That is why we have created our most significant subscription sweepstakes ever - a cabin valued at over $16,000.

"When we were looking for a subscription sweepstakes we wanted to do something very special to help thank our subscribers who are one of the most loyal groups of people in the country," said James Austin, the publisher of Outdoors Magazine. "That is why we came up with the Great Cabin Giveaway. After all, who doesn't enjoy the special memories that are created at any camp? Our friends at Fork Creek Cabins know this better than anybody, and teamed with us to make our giveaway vision a reality."

The cabin is a 12 x 24-foot primitive RV cabin that combines the traditional looks and feel of a rustic cabin with the versatility of an RV. It can go virtually anywhere a vehicle can and comes complete with a host of amenities.

For a chance to win the cabin all you have to do is subscribe to Outdoors Magazine between now and December 23, 2010. For a complete list of rules, visit outdoorsmagazine.net

Hunting Regulations A Click Away

Outdoors Magazine is also proud to announce their partnership with huntfishregs.com, an interactive website that is much more than the name implies.

Visitors to the site will find useful tools to help them plan their hunting and fishing trips. They can buy their license, check out maps for all 50 states, see weather and lunar forecasts, find a hunter safety course in their area, view the gallery, and much more.

Whether you are computer literate or not, the interactive huntfishregs.com will help you with all the information you will need for a legal and safe hunting or fishing trip.

No newcomers to the Hunt and Fish industry, co-founders Guy Van Dyke and Jeff Hunt both have over 15 years experience producing the State Regulation Guides. According to Jeff Hunt, creative director, "We have helped make the guides what they are today and are now taking them into the next generation."

"Our goal is not to change the way the state regulations look, but to change the way you look at the state regulations," Van Dyke said.

A free 6-month subscription to the digital version of Outdoors Magazine is part of the package offered to anyone who signs up for a membership to huntfishregs.com. For more information visit huntfishregs.com
